The village, Gheorghe Lazăr, is located in Ialomița county, in south-eastern Europe. The Baragan Plain was friendly with the people who settled here. The emblem of the village shows the importance of the agriculture and the education for the people.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

In the year in which the village of Gheorghe Lazar was founded (1884), there was the need for establishing a school. The school operated in a rented house in the community. In 1969 a new school building with five classrooms was inaugurated, a teacher's lounge, to which were added two more rooms in 1970, rooms that became laboratories.
